REVIEWER'S REPORT

Detailed Reviewer's Report

If the paper is accepted there are no changes required but personally I am not sure about this research as it is not new and the competitors available now with chat applications are so experienced that it now has become a new normal. The future challenges mentioned in the paper are already handled by companies like snapchat, whatsapp, live chatbots, etc. The only reason for acceptance of paper is the effort and full clear understanding of the author in this.

The author has made a project and has taken the content here for publishing. But to be clear it is not a new research or has not mentioned any new problem or catered a new challenge.
