- The abstract needs to be modified clearly stating what the intent of the research will be and how through the game of Minecraft can it be achieved.
- The methodology of the paper needs to be developed where the author needs to elaborate on the chosen parameters for their study.
- Minor grammatical errors were observed which needs to be corrected

Detailed Reviewer's Report

1. A schematic analysis from the data that is converted into various tabular format is needed where it is reflecting how all these data collected is leading towards.
2. The methodology of the paper needs to be developed where the author needs to elaborate on the chosen parameters for their study.
3. The author has talked about biophilic design, adaptive reuse and nature integration which seems to go beyond the realm of architecture. The author needs to elaborate this and how the game of Minecraft work on its specifically needs to be explored about.
4. In the section, Gamification as a Learning Tool in Architectural Education the author needs to establish it with real time data of its successful implementation.
5. Since this is literature review there should be a definitive inference/analysis from the author side on how all these are corelated and further scope of work.
