Atherosclerosis is a chronic, progressive disease in which plaque- a buildup of fats, cholesterol, calcium, and other substances develops inside the walls of our arteries.

Detailed Reviewer's Report

1. Plaque refers to an abnormal buildup of substances or an abnormal patch of tissue on a body part or surface.
2. ASCVD stands for atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease. It refers to a group of conditions that damage the arteries and increase the risk of cardiovascular events .

REVIEWER'S REPORT

3. CAD stands for coronary artery disease. It is a condition in which the coronary arteries, which supply blood to the heart muscle, become narrowed or blocked.
4. This blockage prevents the heart from receiving enough oxygen rich blood, which can lead to various heart problems.
5. Pad stands for peripheral artery disease. It is a condition where the arteries that carry blood to the arms, legs, and feet become narrowed or blocked due to plaque buildup.
6. Informations are given good with meaningful. Introduction part given flow chart of significant points are awesome.
7. Methodology part also great!
8. Tables with graphs are understandable.
9. Summary points and conclusion part must be included.
10. References should be alphabetical.
11. After those small corrections good to publish in your journal.
