Reviewer's Comment for Publication.

The article studies how much regional taxes and regional levies (fees) contributed to the income of Lampung Province from 2020–2024. Results show that taxes contributed very high amounts every year, while levies contributed very little, except in 2024 when they increased.

Strength:

1. Uses real government data for 5 years.
2. Findings are clear and easy to understand.
3. Useful for planning regional financial policies.

Weakness:

1. Analysis is very basic.
2. Does not explain clearly why levies increased in 2024.
3. Some parts are repetitive.

Overall assessment:

This is a good and valuable study with strong clinical relevance. With shorter writing, clearer tables/figures, and small formatting corrections, it would be suitable for publication.

Recommendation: Manuscript accepted for publication.
