

REVIEWER'S REPORT

Manuscript No.: IJAR-55103

Title: Modern Imperatives of Organ Donation: Ensuring Survival at the Edge of Life – A Narrative Review

Recommendation:

Accept as it is

Accept after minor revision.....

Accept after major revision

Do not accept (Reasons below)

Rating	Excel.	Good	Fair	Poor
Originality		Good
Techn. Quality		Good
Clarity		Good
Significance		Good

Reviewer Name: Dr. Sumathi

Detailed Reviewer's Report

1. Organ donation is giving healthy organs and tissues from one person to another to replace damaged ones, saving or transforming lives, which can happen while living or after death, worth a national system matching donors and recipients based on urgent medical need, blood type, size and location, ensuring fair allocation.
2. Registration is key and can be done via state DMV, online or iphone health app, with a single donor potentially helping up to eight people.
3. Modern imperatives refer to crucial demands or necessary actions for today's world, encompassing ethical guidelines leadership skills, business strategies or even military necessities for future readiness, all requiring a blend of classic principles with contemporary challenges like technology and global instability.
4. Survival at the edge of life refers to enduring extreme conditions from physiological limits to environmental challenges involving mental fortitude, practical skills and human adaptation, explored in books, documentaries and stories about cultures like the showcasing nature's extremes and human resilience.

International Journal of Advanced Research

Publisher's Name: Jana Publication and Research LLP

www.journalijar.com

REVIEWER'S REPORT

- 5. It is about pushing boundaries, often requiring ingenuity and inner strength, whether facing an apocalypse or living traditionally in harsh lands.
- 6. There is no key words are given. It should be given.
- 7. Only given theoretical points. It is not good to publish in journal.
- 8. Result part need with tables and graphs. Discussion part need with references.
- 9. Summary and conclusion points also needed.
- 10. References should be in alphabetical order.
- 11. After those corrections can be published in your journal.