Reviewer's Comment for Publication.

This article studies the topic clearly and addresses an important health/scientific issue. The objectives are well defined, and the study design is appropriate. The methods used are suitable, and the results are presented in a clear manner. The discussion explains the findings logically and compares them with previous studies. The conclusion is relevant to the study results.

Strength:

1. Clear aim and objectives
2. Proper methodology and study design
3. Results are well presented and easy to understand
4. Discussion is supported by relevant literature
5. Useful contribution to existing knowledge

Weakness:

1. Sample size is limited
2. Study is conducted at a single center
3. Lack of long-term follow-up
4. More statistical details could improve clarity

Overall assessment:

The article is well written and scientifically sound. With minor improvements, it is suitable for publication.
