Detailed Reviewer's Report

The paper addresses an important and sensitive subject and demonstrates extensive research, particularly in its coverage of international instruments, Indian legal frameworks, and judicial developments. The scope of analysis is broad and informative, and the paper reflects a strong understanding of child protection laws and mechanisms. However, the work would benefit from tighter organization and clearer structuring, as several sections overlap in content and reiterate similar points across different headings, especially in the discussions on legal frameworks, judicial trends, and protection mechanisms.

Additionally, the paper contains frequent repetitions and overly long sentences, which affect readability and clarity. Many sentences can be simplified or divided to improve flow and comprehension. Reducing redundancy, consolidating similar arguments, and refining sentence structure would significantly strengthen the paper's academic quality. A careful language edit focusing on conciseness and coherence is strongly recommended to enhance the overall impact of the study.
