Detailed Reviewer's Report

The manuscript titled “Artificial Intelligence in the Contemporary Political Scenario” presents a comprehensive and timely analysis of the expanding role of artificial intelligence in modern politics, covering its evolution, applications in governance and elections, ethical challenges, global regulatory frameworks, and future implications with adequate theoretical grounding and relevant global and Indian case examples; the paper is well-structured, thematically rich, and demonstrates strong conceptual understanding, however, the language requires careful proofreading to address grammatical errors, sentence clarity, and consistency of terminology, while some sections are overly lengthy and could be condensed to improve readability and academic precision; figures should be clearly referenced and formatted as per journal guidelines, and citations need uniformity and slight updating to strengthen scholarly rigor—overall, the study makes a valuable contribution to political and governance literature and is recommended for acceptance after minor revisions focused on language refinement, conciseness, and formatting.
