REVIEWER'S REPORT

- The abstract of the paper needs to be rewritten and in a more scientific manner, where the author describes what the paper and their research is intending to do and contribute in the domain of studies. Minimum 5 relevant to the study keywords needs to be included
- The current paper seems to be written in a much unorganized manner where some sections are overlapping with one another and needs to be cross checked. The paper also needs to be written as per the journals prescribed format and guidelines.
- The methodology needs to include the parameters of the study and how they were selected and observed. The maps included (if generated needs to mention the method) also needs to have proper captions.
- The result sections needs to be expanded more where the author needs to highlight their observations that were derived from the analysis.
- The conclusion section needs to be aligned more towards the result and observation of the paper and should also include the author's own observation in it.
- The referencing of the current paper seems to be quite less and needs to be increased. Moreover the in line citation in the paper also seems to be missing which needs to be included.
