Detailed Reviewer's Report

- The abstract is comprehensive but somewhat lengthy. It should be streamlined to maintain reader engagement and adhere to academic standards of brevity.
- While the topic of the paper is relevant and the discussion is detailed, the manuscript is considerably lengthy. The authors are encouraged to reduce redundancy and improve conciseness across sections to enhance clarity and readability.
- The manuscript contains several blank pages, which appear to be formatting or submission errors. The authors are requested to review the document carefully and remove unnecessary blank pages before resubmission.
- The absence of clearly defined research objectives and methodological framework significantly weakens the academic structure of the paper. The authors are advised to incorporate a well-defined methodology, including data collection and analytical procedures, to meet standard research publication requirements.
- Condensing the conclusion to emphasize the study's primary outcomes, contributions, and future research directions would improve clarity and impact.
